LAUSANNE, Dec. 14.—Turkey will join the League of Nations as soon as peace is signed at Lausanne. Ismet Pasha announced at the Near East peace conference today. As the League exercises general supervision over minority populations, Ismet's announcement was interpreted as meaning that Turkey would accept the League's supervision over the Christian peoples of Turkey.

Turkey accepted in principle the application to the national minorities in her territory of the clauses on its subject inserted in the Austrian, Bulgarian and other peace treaties. Ismet declared, and also the granting of amnesty to the members of these minorities.

Turkey, said Ismet, likewise agreed in principle to the plan for seeking admittance to the League of Nations. She refused, however, the demand for the creation of a national home for the Armenians and the exemption of members of the minorities from military service.

Ismet said he would agree to note the Turkish delegation had changed its tone and had reached an understanding of the vast importance of the minorities question.

He thought Ismet's most important announcement was the decision of Turkey to enter the League of Nations after the signature of peace which Lord Curzon hoped would be accomplished in about a month. He believed Turkey's decision to enter the League would facilitate solution of many of the problems before the conference.

Straight Talks to Turks by Curzon and Child Yesterday.

Marquis Curzon told the Turkish delegation yesterday that persistent imposition of barriers to a satisfactory settlement of the minorities problem was having a bad effect on the conference and the entire world.

Child Influences Turks.

Ambassador Child's frank talk with Ismet Pasha yesterday on the subject of minorities made a good impression in Turkish circles and exerted a calming influence on the conference. The friendly interview of the American Ambassador convinced the Turk of the strength of world opinion, particularly that of the United States, on the need of a settlement of the minorities problem.

Turkish spokesmen believe that the American representative was the natural arbitrator of this vexing problem. They contended that Turkey desired to do the right thing, but added that measures designed to satisfy Turkey's sovereign rights or force her to grant exceptional privileges to people within her borders would not be assimilated.

Child emphasized the good feeling Turkey could inspire in the outside world by making a wise provision for the protection of foreigners living in Turkey and explained to Ismet that Americans of all classes had in seeing the dislodged officials properly cared for and having guarantees set up that there should be no further difficulties.

He expressed American disapproval of the Turkish plan for the exchange of populations in Turkey and Greece and explained to Ismet that people of the United States were willing to help the victims of the Greeks in Constantinople.

The Turks, yesterday afternoon, had a more conciliatory attitude.

CLEMENCEAU OPPOSES FRENCH OCCUPATION OF THE RUHR

In Interview on Ship, Sent by Wireless to Paris.
He Also Urges Ratification of Washington Conference Treaty.

PARIS, Dec. 14.—Former Premier Georges Clemenceau, returning home upon the liner Paris, made his political influence felt by wireless today.

Francois Crucy, correspondent of the Petit Parisien, who is accompanying the "Tiger," sent an interview from the liner which created a sensation in the Chamber of Deputies. The former Premier made the following points in his statement:

Opposed occupation of the Ruhr by France.

Urged ratification of the Washington conference treaty by France.

Approved the proposal that President Harding should arbitrate Anglo-French differences.

Urged France to make costly sacrifices to retain American friendship.

Political capital will be made of the interview when Premier Poincaré addresses the Chamber of Deputies tomorrow.

Indications French Have Given Up Idea of Occupying Ruhr Basin.
(Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.)

PARIS, Dec. 14.—Latest indications are that the French Government has abandoned the idea of occupying the Ruhr basin. The Government believes that if it is obliged to take separate action, pressure in the river ports of Ruhrort and Duisburg, already under occupation, will serve all practical purposes.

Defaulting Banker Makes Good in Another Job While a Fugitive From Justice.

By the Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 14.—A former banker, fugitive from justice for eight years and indicted on 17 charges alleging misapplication of funds, yesterday received a minimum sentence of a year and a day in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta because it was officially recognized that he "made good in a positive and frank" during the years that he had been at large.

The prisoner, Homer H. Dean, former vice president of the First National Bank of Sutton, W. Va., disappeared in August, 1914, while an audit was being made of the bank's accounts. The auditors pronounced the bank insolvent.

WITNESSES SAY 2 DEFENDANTS WERE IN HERRIN MOB

First Identifications Made in Trial—Joe Carnaghi and Leva Mann Pointed Out as Having Figured in March.

PHOTOGRAPH OF MAN SLAIN IS DISPLAYED

Woman Who Attended Howard Hoffman at Hospital Is First to Take Stand—His Father Then Testifies.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, Ill., Dec. 14.—R. P. Poole, a staff correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, who has been covering the Herrin massacre case today, said he had seen Robert T. Hering, chief of police, among the spectators watching a crowd of men driving six prisoners out of Herrin on the morning of the killing.

Continuing absence of witnesses at the opening of court today caused anxiety for the prosecution. Of the 35 whose names were desired for today and tomorrow, only seven were present. An additional list of those wanted next Wednesday was read, but responses were not received.

Attorney-General Brundage said the ones on hand were the ones the State wanted to examine first, and he felt confident, he said, that the others would be on hand when wanted.

Miss Winnie Dudenbastel, assistant to Dr. J. T. Black at the Herrin hospital, was the first witness called.

Before taking the stand she was shown by Assistant Attorney-General Middaugh a large photograph of Howard Hoffman, for whose murder Ois Clark, Bert Hiller and Peter Hiller are on trial.

The photograph which she will be asked to identify is that of a handsome, vigorous young man in World War uniform. The photograph was provided by Hoffman's father, Charles F. Hoffman, of Huntington, Ind., who is attending the trial.

Woman Tells of Wounds.

Miss Dudenbastel, who attended Hoffman, testified that he was shot in the shoulder and spine and abdomen, and that his legs were paralyzed from the effect of the injury to the spine. She gave it as her judgment that the gunshot wounds caused his death. There was also a wound in the back of the head, either a gunshot wound or a knife wound, and a stab wound in the neck. She did not remember any other stab wounds.

"And what are your politics, Mr. Watson?" he asked Couzens.

"Republican," replied the senator.

Another man might have frozen under the clemency, but Watson's sense of humor saved him. He always a genial soul.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION IN SNOWSTORM IN NEW YORK BAY

Liner Bound for Havana Asks for Help, Saying She Is Taking in Water Rapidly.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—In a driving snowstorm in lower New York Bay, the Ward liner Mexico, bound out for Havana, Cuba, with 119 passengers, today collided with the Hamilton of the Old Dominion line, coming in from Norfolk, Va. The Mexico, the port side of which was badly damaged, sent out wireless call for assistance.

The message which came from Mexico said that a large hole had been ripped in her port side and she was taking in water rapidly. Four passengers went to her assistance. Both the Mexico and the Hamilton anchored in the lower bay.

The Hamilton came to her pier a short time later under her own power and only slightly damaged. On cross-examination he said the map showed the area of the mine property but not the topography, but testified from personal observation that a part of the highway bisecting the property had been excavated by steam shovels to a depth of about 15 feet in the stripping operation.

Wilson said the excavation necessitated a detour of half a mile for traffic between Marion and Herrin, if a temporary roadway were used, and probably a mile and a half if a detour were made to another road.

On redirect examination he said the obstructed road was not the main road.

Poor Shooting in Uruguay

President and Other Duelist Each Miss on Two Shots.

By the Associated Press.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 14.—Dr. Baltazar Brum, President of Uruguay, and Dr. Luis Alberto Herrera, former secretary of the legation at Washington, fought a duel with pistols late yesterday afternoon. Both men fired two shots. Neither was hit. It was announced that no reconciliation between the men took place.

The duel took place in the aerodrome. Dr. Brum was the challenger. The challenge was sent because of a charge of Dr. Herrera that President Brum had so manipulated the recent presidential elections as to prevent the success of Herrera's poll.

CHORUS SURROUNDS GOV. ALLEN WHEN HE ROUTS COMEDIAN

Kansas Executive Has "Kidding Match" With Will Rogers on "Follies" Stage at New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—If the folk out in Kansas had known what was happening to their Governor around 9 o'clock last night they probably would have turned over in their beds and shrieked a bit. At that hour Henry J. Allen was surrounded by 20 or more chorus girls. He had attended a performance of the "Ziegfeld Follies" and Will Rogers had kidded him so steadfastly as he sat in his box that the Governor had stepped right over the rail into the spotlight and engaged in a friendly exchange of repartees.

Rogers had the better of the argument, his bearing, when the Kansas well-known flow of satire, got under way the cowboy comedian was fumbling for words. At this point the stage manager, sensing his comedian's predicament, made matters easier by sending the entire chorus scampering on the stage to greet the Governor.

"You're mighty pretty," cried the Governor. "I'm sure most of you must have come from Kansas."

LANDRU TRIAL REPORTER WINS FRENCH PRIZE AS NOVELIST

Henri Berard Awarded Honor in Close Contest, by Academie Goncourt.

(Copyright, 1922.)

PARIS, Dec. 14.—The Academie Goncourt met today and after lengthy debate awarded the prize for the year best novel to Henri Berard, author of "Vitrail de la Landre" and "Martyre de l'Appostolie." Both books were published by the Illinois Glass Co. and fruit.

The second witness was Charles F. Hoffman, father of Howard Hoffman. There was a stir and craning of necks as he took the stand. He is a gray-haired man of 68. He said his son was an electrician and was 35 years old at the time of his death.

Hoffman answered the routine questions with quiet dignity and without betraying any emotion until the photograph was handed to him. He was asked whose photograph it was. Before he could answer, his defense objected, without stating its ground. Judge Hougham said he knew what the defense had in mind but it was a tense moment when Hoffman was again asked who was the original of the photograph.

"My son," he answered slowly, with a little catch in his voice.

Attorney for the defense said there would be only question or two on cross-examination which would be deferred to a later hour. Hoffman was excused and slowly left the courtroom with all eyes upon him.

Paul B. Wilson, a civil engineer of Marion, identified a map of the section surrounding the Lester strip mine. On cross-examination he said the map showed the area of the mine property but not the topography, but testified from personal observation that a part of the highway bisecting the property had been excavated by steam shovels to a depth of about 15 feet in the stripping operation.

Wilson said the excavation necessitated a detour of half a mile for traffic between Marion and Herrin, if a temporary roadway were used, and probably a mile and a half if a detour were made to another road.

Government entitled to care under the act to the number of report said, were treated in health service hospitals in the year and 49,244 received in dispensaries.

This arrangement, the only one possible at the stage the court proceedings had reached, was completed in Federal Court, this afternoon, Judge Sanborn of the United States Court of Appeals, Judge of the District Court, who sentenced Koerner, Special Assistant Attorney-General Dyott, prosecutor of liquor cases, and Hampton Rothwell, Koerner's lawyer, agreed to it in advance.

Case Was Second Offense. Koerner, one of the foremost old-time caterers of the city, had difficulty with the prohibition law in 1918. This same year he was second offense, which made the sentence possible. He pleaded guilty in Federal Court, Oct. 19, 1918, to a sale of liquor made in 1916, and was fined $500. His conviction on the second offense was a jury. Judge Faris told him, passing sentence of six months in jail and a $1000 fine, that he would receive "the limit" had he been younger. The maximum penalty on a second offense is five years in prison and a fine of $2000.

The sentence was appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals, but the appeal was not perfected, and was dismissed finally. Three stays of mandate, each for 90 days, with the right of delaying his commitment to jail, were granted successively, the last of them Oct. 20 last. By day's agreement, the latest stay will be dismissed, to give him time to get out of the courtroom.

Meanwhile, Sept. 23, 1920, Koerner had been arrested again for illegal possession of whisky at his restaurant. Prohibition agents found the liquor in a safe behind the bar. Koerner said it was his private stock. He was indicted on this charge by the Federal grand jury, May 26, 1920. The trial has been delayed a number of times on the plea of the defendant's counsel that he was unable to leave his bed, at his home, 3803 Sidney street.

Special Examination Ordered. It was declared that his weight had decreased from 322 pounds to 184 in 14 months, and that his physician said commitment to jail undoubtedly kill him. In fact, that it was remarkable he still lived. Judge Faris was dissatisfied with these results and appointed Dr. Albert Knobell to examine Koerner.

Knobell agreed with the other physicians and a continuance of this case to the next term of court was granted, Oct. 20 last. In view of today's action it is thought possible the case may never come to trial. Another charge of possession and sale of liquor against Koerner is pending in Federal Court, awaiting a decision of the case on which trial delayed. Special Assistant Attorney-General Dyott has information concerning two charges of possession against Koerner, on which formal charges have been made. Judge Faris has said that he was unable to commit Koerner to jail, however, at this time, as he was of "forgetting" to arrest him.

"THEY SCOURRED COUNTRY, EVERY SINKHOLE, FOR MEN WHO ESCAPED," SAYS HERRIN CASE PROSECUTOR

They Got Six Men Together, and Marched Them Through Herrin When the Sun Was Shining, to Cemetery and Shot Them to Death—Text of Duty's Opening Statement.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, Ill., Dec. 14.—Following is the text of State's Attorney Duty's description of the massacre at Herrin last June, as the State expects to prove it in his opening statement yesterday in the trial of the six miners for the killing of Howard Hoffman.

"The evidence will be that in the course of the battle three union miners lost their lives. I do not know whether there was any man there in the mine that was wounded at that time or during that fight. I have never been able to learn about that and the evidence may not disclose it. Anyway, gentlemen, the facts will be that the battle waged there that night until something like 8 or 8:30 o'clock the next morning; that upon daylight coming and these miners observing the vast number that was around the mine there, with which they had done battle all night, they thought some arrangements through somebody, agreed that they should lay down their arms and I think there will be some evidence, I think it will be conclusive, that there was an understanding by which they marched out and they were promised safe conduct out of the county. They were promised that they would be taken from that mine and conducted to some place where they might make their departure from this country and from this neighborhood and this vicinity, without harm."

March From the Mine.

"They went from the mine down a road or passageway that led from the mine just a little bit west and north to what is called the Crenshaw crossing road that intersects the Interurban line running from Marion to Herrin. There at the Crenshaw crossing that road runs south, by that mine, almost touching it, and then turns there to Nelson's house near the old Henderson farm, where the brick house is there on the hill. But a good many of them went down the railroad tracks anyway. The evidence will show that is the general direction in which they went. They lined up, two abreast, these captured men with all this vast concourse of men on each side of them and between them. They got to this road and goes north to the Crenshaw crossing.

"There the public road runs just from the car line to the north and then goes parallel straight west with the road right by the old Uncle Donahue place to what is known as the Moak crossing, where the Interurban makes a slight curve to the north, and then on west again to where the public highway recrosses the car line and is on the south side; running from there on west, parallel with the car line again, until the power house is reached, or the next crossing between there and the power house."

"There is a man's house sitting on the south side of the highway and of the car line by the name of George Nelson. There George Nelson and his wife, and some other people were out in the yard, which, I should say, estimating it closely, could not be more than a few feet from the highway. This man Mr. Dowell, the superintendent, who was in charge of the plant out there, was a one-legged man; that is, he had lost a leg at some time before and it was replaced with what is called a cork limb, and he walked with a decided limp, and walked with de-dicted difficulty.

Shooting of McDowell.

"He was along there in the march with the rest of them and at this particular place which was I think the most difficult to walk, and that he was unable to kill him, in fact, that it was remarkable he still lived. Judge Faris was dissatisfied with these results and appointed Dr. Albert Knobell to examine Koerner.

Knobell agreed with the other physicians and a continuance of this case to the next term of court was granted, Oct. 20 last. In view of today's action it is thought possible the case may never come to trial.

risons, were at home; that there was a bunch of men that came up that rounded up three men that were survivors out there at the shooting at the power house in the woods; they rounded up three men, and the evidence will show that there were about 15 or 20 men came along after they found them and captured them and that the defendant Bert Grace was there with a gun. They went out into that field of George Harrison just a little northeast of his house. I do not know just how far, and there they shot two of these men to death and hung the other by the neck until he died. The defendant, Bert Grace, came right back by where George Harrison and Fred and other people were standing, with this man, got in a car, an automobile, that was standing there, and was driven to the cemetery.

Killing of Howard Hoffman.

"In the morning another bunch of these fellows had rounded up and collected altogether twelve men, over there near Taylor No. 2, is just a little bit northwest of Energy and southwest of Herrin, probably about midway. I do not know that the evidence will ever disclose just what became of those two men that they found there, what they did with them. But going on and leading up to the point where it becomes very material now for you gentlemen to pay attention to, inasmuch as the killing of Howard Hoffman, the deceased man, for which these men are now on trial, was at the cemetery, now we get to a place where a detailed narrating of what occurred there becomes vastly important.

"There were six men, perhaps those two down there that were captured at Taylor No. 2, and four others, and they took them up that street in Herrin, marched them along there right in broad, open daylight, when the sun was shining, and the longest day of the year, the 22d of June; warm, clear, God's own ideal weather. The evidence will show they marched these men along this main down there, one hold of them and, I think the evidence will tell before they got him down to this place, when they started with him, that the defendant, Otis Clark, struck him over the head with a big pistol, inflicting a wound."

FARM UNION HEAD SAYS BUREAU WAS FINANCED BY ROCKEFELLER

Barrett States Agricultural Body
Was Formed to Check Radicalism
Among Farmers.

By the Associated Press.
SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 14.—

Charges that John D. Rockefeller financed the Farm Bureau movement and that the Chicago Board of Trade financed the United Grain Growers' Association were made here yesterday by Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, in speaking at the annual convention of the Washington Farmers' Union.

Barrett said the Farm Bureau movement was an outgrowth of the investigation made by the Country Life Commission appointed by the

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat often too much red meat and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is best used for generation to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

TWO MEN HELD FOR STENOGRAPHER'S DEATH

Check From One, With No Amount Named, Found in Room of Slain Woman.

By the Associated Press
RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 14.—A Coroners' jury returned a verdict today that Mrs. Thelma H. Richardson, who died Monday night, was "shot by Thomas Pollard in a scuffle."

Pollard, a real estate man and member of a prominent family, is at Liberty on $10,000 bond pending preliminary arraignment Dec. 22.

Mrs. Richardson at one time was his stenographer.

Mrs. Richardson was shot and killed at the Pollard home here Monday night. J. Mosby Weas is being held in ball as an accessory.

Detectives in a search of the woman's home last night found a series of amorous notes and a check signed "Thomas Pollard" made payable to Thelma H. Richardson, and dated June 25, 1921, with no amount specified.

On June 6, 1921, the detectives said, in referring to the hearing of the Richardson divorce case, Mrs. Richardson went to a local hospital. Her illness at that time and an operation figured conspicuously in the proceedings.

The police have issued a statement declaring that they have been unable to establish the exact manner in which Mrs. Richardson was shot. West, who was Mrs. Richardson's escort Monday night, said, according to the police, that the shooting occurred in the vestibule of the Pollard home. Persons residing near the Pollard home say the body was found in an alcove between it and the house adjoining.

Her body was sent to Atlanta, Ga., her home, accompanied by Herbert Richardson Jr., her former husband, and William Pierce Hamm, her brother.

REICHSTAG PROTEST ON IMMORAL HOUSE PLAN

Woman Deputy Says French Government Demands Such Places in Occupied Area.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 14.—The Reichstag has decided to issue a protest of the sharpest character against the demand from military forces in the Rhineland for the enforced erection of houses of ill-repute in the occupied area. In the course of debate on this subject, the Nationalist Deputy, Margaret Behm, who is also president of the Association of German Workers, declared the French Government was continually demanding obligatory houses of this description.

"Previously," said Frau Behm, "the National Assembly has considered the need of the occupied area from the standpoint of health, but now there are attempts to win the territory, not only economically but morally. It is shocking that the number of brothels is on the increase. * * * What does all other protection of youth avail in the face of filth?"

Speaking for the guarding of the youth of the Rhineland against moral perils, she urged a unanimous protest "before the entire moral world against the French proceedings."

Woman Foretells Will Contest.
The will of Mrs. Laura Meller, who died Dec. 5, provides that if any of her children contest the documents such objector is to receive only $1, in place of the interest specified in the will. Mrs. Meller directed that the family home at 4903 Pershing avenue be sold and that out of the proceeds $2000 each be given to Mrs. Reba Pendleton, a daughter, and Taylor and Duncan Meller, sons. The residue of the estate is placed in trust of the American Trust Co. for the benefit of two daughters, Ida and Marguerite Meller.

THE justly celebrated "chimes of Westminister" are not the least of the charms of a majestic hall clock that may give added character to your home.

We are closing out our entire stock of grandfather clocks. This is your opportunity, just at Xmas time to purchase an elegant clock at a material saving.

A stately Colonial hall clock, in brown mahogany finish, strikes the cathedral gong on the half hour and hour. Reduced from $120 to $85.

A grandfather clock that is the work of a master craftsman, is constructed of solid mahogany. It renders on nine tubes, every quarter hour, either the Whittington, Canterbury or Westminster chimes, which are regulated by a small lever. Formerly priced at $750, now $650.

There are scores of other clocks, priced to meet every demand. And they will all be disposed of at sacrifice prices!

Classical compositions for two pianos were broadcast by Station-K
SD last night with splendid effect.
The pianists were Miss Lucille Hahne and Miss Hilda Porbeck, and their selections all were for four hands. Several were played on one piano in the form of the usual duet and the rest were in the duo form, two pianos being used.

The program, as a whole, was longer than usual and interesting throughout. Several groups of songs were beautifully rendered by Mrs.
N. S. Bender assisted on the piano by Mrs. Sara Schirmer, and many compliments were received over the telephone from points in Missouri and Illinois, as well as from St. Louis.
Misses Porbeck and Hahne displayed in their piano numbers the touch of the artist and presented their exacting numbers in a satisfying manner, while the clear tones of Mrs.
Bender's soprano voice went out beautifully over the radio.

A change has been made necessary in the program tonight, owing to the illness of one of the participants and the program to have been given by Miss Marietta Schumacher and Mrs.
Neal will be postponed until January. The artists taking part this evening will be Miss Isobel McGrath, violinist, and Miss Esther Haubold, pianist. There also will be a midnight program of dance music which will be given at Hotel Statler with the orchestra of that hotel and broadcast from there.

Mrs. Kathryn Schmidt, 111 Foster St.,

been filled after another and tried differ-

M-K-T. PROPERTIES
SOLD FOR $34,500,800

Lines in Texas and Those North of Texas Boundary Disposed of at Separate Auctions.

By the Associated Press.
DENISON, Tex., Dec. 14.—The Texas lines of the Missouri-Kansas-
Texas Railway were sold at auction at Sherman Junction, near here, this afternoon to J. and W. Sellman &
Co. and Hallgarten & Co. of New York for $8,500,100. This was $190 more than the minimum bid. The successful bidders were represented by Francis Randolph and H. W. Blumenthal, respectively, who bought the Oklahoma properties of the "Katy" yesterday for the Sellman and Hallgarten companies.

COLBERT, Ok., Dec. 14.—The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad's properties north of the Texas boundary line were sold here yesterday for $28,000,700 at an auction sale conducted by Bryan F. Babbitt of St. Louis, special master.

The properties were purchased jointly by J. and W. Sellman & Co.
and Hallgarten & Co. of New York, through their agents, Francis Randolph and H. W. Blumenthal, respectively. Only a few interested parties attended the sale, it being little more than a formality.

1444 Miles of Track Involved.
The sale yesterday involved approximately 1744 miles of trackage,
122 locomotives, 19,954 freight cars, 199 passenger cars, 2203 miscellaneous cars besides freight and passenger stations.

C. E. Schaff, who has been receiver of the road, will become president of the reorganized road under the name of Missouri, Kansas,
Texas. It was said.

The bid of Randolph and Blumenthal was the only one submitted.
Colbert, a town of 200 inhabitants, was little disturbed by the sale, although it was the biggest transaction that probably ever will be made in the village. Special Master Babbitt stood in the middle of the "Katy" tracks, near the depot, and monotonously offered the divisions for sale one at a time, while Randolph responded with the only bid. A few townspeople stood about in a curious circle, but even attorneys representing the mortgage holders, did not listen to the complete reading of the Federal Court order which authorized the action. This legal document required more than one hour to read, while the sale required only 20 minutes.

With the disposal tomorrow of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern Railroad, owned by the "Katy," preliminary work will have been completed for reorganization of the road.

BLACKMAIL PLOT LED TO MURDERS, DEFENSE CONTENDS

Testimony at Trial of Jeweler Who Shot Man and Wife Diverted by Lawyer on Cross-Examination.

The testimony of state witnesses yesterday at the opening of the trial of Frank Turchinsky, 32 years old, a jeweler at 1419 Market street, on a first-degree murder charge based upon his shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pomerantz on Aug. 18, 1921, was diverted under cross-examination in support of an opening statement of Turchinsky's attorneys that the man and woman killed were attempting to blackmail him.

Former Circuit Attorney Thomas B. Harvey of the defense counsel said that the man under the law was third-degree robbery and that resistance to such robbery was self-defense. He obtained the admission of evidence under this reasoning over vigorous opposition of the State.

Turchinsky shot Mr. and Mrs. Pomerantz in a kitchen in the rear of a shoe store of Nathan Brodron at 1109 Morgan street, whose wife had died a short time before. Testimony of Dorothy Brodron, 19 years old, daughter of Brodron, was that Pomerantz and his wife had told her father that her mother had left a will and that prior to her death had told them that she had given a mortgage for $1500 to Turchinsky. She testified also that her father had promised to give $500 to Pomerantz and his wife if they obtained the $1500 mortgage from Turchinsky. She testified also that their subsequent investigation did not support the existence of any such mortgage, none being of record in the city hall.

Further, Miss Brodron testified that Mr. and Mrs. Pomerantz and Turchinsky met in her father's home on the day of the shooting and engaged in a noisy argument. Pomerantz and his wife denounced Turchinsky as a swindler, a crook and saying that he was a business failure, his wife by questionable deportment supporting his family.

The upshot of the quarrel was, she said, that all agreed to go before the rabbi and "standing between the black candles tell the truth." It was explained that this procedure among orthodox Jews exacted the truth under penalty of swift punishment for untruths.

Tells of Renewal of Quarrel.

The visitors then departed, but returned later in the day, apparently not having visited the rabbi as planned and the quarrel was renewed.

Miss Brodron testified that she was in an adjoining room when several shots were fired. She fainted and could not recount details. Her father was in his shop when the shots were fired in the kitchen. He said that he found Pomerantz in a chair, shot, and his wife lying on the floor, also wounded. When the police arrived, Turchinsky was in an adjoining room where, on a table, there was a revolver. Police testified that Turchinsky handed them the weapon, saying "I am the one who did the shooting."

Brodron's testimony concerning the events preceding the shooting was similar to that of his daughter.

THE CHILDREN AT CHRISTMAS TIME

The mother of these four children says that she has used Father John's Medicine for the past twenty years and in cases of severe colds she believes it has no equal. In a recent letter she said, "I have used Father John's Medicine for twenty years. I knew of its value and used it long before I was married. I have given it to all of my four children and for croup and severe colds I think it is very good." (Signed) Mrs. Rose G. Kuffe, White Plains, N. Y.

Millions of mothers depend on Father John's Medicine to keep their children well and strong and to restore their strength after any illness. They know that it has had more than 65 years of success for colds and coughs and as a tonic and body builder.

STANDARD OIL OF
NEW JERSEY SAYS

to Be Presented to Senate Committee, Denies It Is in Group.OPERATING ON LINES

nized as Final Expression of Public Feeling on Monoplistic Control.

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, concluding the Supreme Court's dissolution decree, by which it was cut off from its former corporate holdings, has a final expression of the public will on the subject of monopolistic control," has conducted its business "under the conditions of free and active competition," W. C. Teagle, president of the company, declared in a statement prepared for submission to the Senate Manufacturers' Committee today on resumption of its investigation of the oil industry.

Going exhaustively into conditions which have arisen in the industry since the dissolution decree, with particular relation to the New Jersey company, whose business and organization he reviewed at length, Teagle declared his company had observed the decree "in good faith both in letter and in spirit," adding:

"I want to say with all emphasis that the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey is not a party to any combination, agreement or arrangement to fix or maintain the selling prices of its products."

Teagle said he wanted to "protest against the characterization of this decree as the 'Standard Oil monopoly' as if the old association of Standard Oil companies constituted a part of any group of companies subject to common control."

Location Limits Competition

Discussing competitive conditions in the industry today, Teagle stated that the "strategic location" in respect to transportation facilities which every Standard Oil plant was given in the economic development of the original company was now the barrier to general competition among the separated units.

Geographical considerations, he said, "limited the extent" to which the New Jersey company might compete with its former subsidiaries.

Its competition open to its company, with its former subsidiaries, Teagle said, was limited by the fact of transportation to three companies—the Standard Oil Co. of New York, the Atlantic Refining Co. and the Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky.

In regard to prices on refined products, Teagle gave it as his opinion that the dominant position in the domestic marketing situation, with the shipments of refiners in the mid-continent producing field—Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. This position, he said, constituted an enormous floating supply, which was not tied to any market, but limited to territories where local sales would yield the best returns. This was his competition, he added, with everyone engaged in marketing gasoline must reckon.

Local Competition

Our domestic marketing at all times is conducted under conditions of keen competition locally," he said, "as in addition to the number of jobbers drawing supplies from time to time from the cheaper source, the Gulf, Texas and other large companies maintain and operate extensive marketing and distributing facilities in the states in which we are operating."

Teagle stated that in these states a total of 4,510 marketing and distributing stations, his company maintained only 776, or 16.1 per cent, which supplied, however, only a little more than a third of the total consumption in the area.

Turning to profits of the New Jersey company, Teagle testified that its earnings, including those of its subsidiary companies, during the years 1920 and 1921 and the first half of the present year, were at the rate of 9.6 per cent per annum on "net assets" and aggregated $12,750,212.

$27,812 in Dividends

The dividend return to stockholders of the company, the committee was told, had not changed since the dissolution and the business since then had paid them an average of 4.4 per cent per annum on net assets.

"In the committee's information that already large programs are now being made out of the oil business."

Analysis of Earnings

"What do the earnings shown mean to the actual purchaser of a gallon of our products and what part of each dollar paid to the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) represents profits to this company? This is a phase of the matter about which there is generally a very erroneous impression, i.e., that unconscionable profits are being made out of the oil business."

The gross sales of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and its domestic subsidiaries in their domestic oil business during the two and one-half years ended last June 20, 1922, common dividends aggregated $42,274,812.50, or an average of 2.82 per cent per annum on assets over this period, were

WIDESPREAD FEELING FOR FURTHER DISARMAMENT IS RECOGNIZED IN NAVY BILL"Snapper" at End of $293,806,538 Appropriation
Measure Is in Response to Feeling Conference of Year Ago Did Not Go Far Enough.BY CHARLES G. BOSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Another disarmament conference, to take up the work of naval armament reduction where the Washington conference of a year ago left off, is proposed in the navy appropriation bill just completed by the House Committee on Appropriations.

The committee, headed by a subcommittee headed by Representative Kelley of Michigan, "The President," says the final paragraph of the bill, "is requested to enter into negotiations with the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan with the view of reaching an understanding or agreement relative to limiting the construction of all types and sizes of subsurface and surface craft of 10,000 tons standard displacement or less, and of aircraft."

It will be recalled that the genesis of last year's conference which produced a battleship scrapping proposal and a proposal of a popular demand through the Naval resolution by a subcommittee headed by Rep-representative Kelley of Michigan.

"The President," says the final paragraph of the bill, "is requested to enter into negotiations with the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan with the view of reaching an understanding or agreement relative to limiting the construction of all types and sizes of subsurface and surface craft of 10,000 tons standard displacement or less, and of aircraft."

In view of the promises, the duty of the statesmen of the world seems clear. They owe it to their respective peoples to join a new movement to put a stop once and for all to the needless diversion of vast wealth and energy from the fields of peaceful pursuits.

The committee, therefore, is proposing in this bill the appropriate steps to be taken with the view to supplementing the epoch-making work which the conference on the limitation of armament initiated."

U. S. Far Ahead of Britain in Naval Aviation, Admiral Moffett Says.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, told the House Appropriations Committee, in testimony made public today in connection with the presentation of the annual Navy bill to Congress, that the United States was so far ahead of Great Britain in naval aviation that Britain would have a very hard time catching up.

Morgan took the position, as did other bankers, that no loan is sufficient magnitude to aid Germany very materially was possible until the amount of reparations she must pay was definitely settled. If that was done, they thought, the loan might be arranged.

"I am now and shall continue to be ready," said Morgan at the breaking up of the International bankers' conference, "to do everything in my power to assist in the solution of the problems which confront the economic life of Europe, but I believe that, in so far as such problems depend on an international loan, Germany in which American investors are to take part, the solution is not possible without general settlement of the reparations question and only as a part of such settlement."

Morgan absolutely refused to discuss his visit and the State Department merely announced there was no significance to be attached to it.

Another of Morgan's previous statements bears out the theory that something concrete is being considered, to wit: "There is, in my opinion, a growing appreciation in the United States of the fact that its own prosperity is to a degree dependent on the prosperity of the allied nations, and that the prosperity of the latter is in a larger degree dependent on the rehabilitation of German credit."

President at Hughes' Office.

It may or may not have significance that shortly before the advent of Morgan at Hughes' office, President Harding appeared there for the first time since he has been President. Harding was attending a Red Cross session, at which he made a few remarks, among them that seemed to convey that he had in mind something that would diminish the need for rescue work on a war scale.

"Of course," said the President, "we think that in the awakening of the conscience of mankind in the new commitment to higher ideals and better fellowship and elevated manifestations of our boasted civilization there will be less to do along the lines that have been followed in Red Cross work."

The circumstances that the session was at the Department of State rather indicates that Morgan was asked to appear.

company. Our prime purpose, then, is to bring about, at the first opportunity afforded, substantial parity between our outstanding stock and the net value of the company.

Teagle continued that it long had been the desire of his company to effect a wider distribution of its common stock, which, he said, was impracticable when the market value of the shares was high.

"Our first step to this end," the witness asserted, "was to cut that premium by reducing the par value from $100 to $25, and this made practicable the adoption of the stock acquisition plan, the stock dividend further reducing the market price to about one-fifth of the present figure."

Scope of Petroleum Industry.

As another of the "sole considerations" which led the company to declare its recent stock dividend, Teagle said that an increase in the outstanding stock was necessary to put the company in position to accomplish any further financing which it might seem desirable to undertake through the sale of additional stock.

Concluding his statement Teagle said he thought he properly could claim for the petroleum industry that it had been "the greatest single force in the extension of the foreign trade of the United States and that it has made a notable contribution to the prosperity, the welfare and the progress not only of the American people, but of the people of many lands."

"In no industry," he declared, "have men so self-controlled and independent units flourished and multiplied during the past decade as in the petroleum industry. The individual employees, there will be added to the company's stock list at least 12,000 to 15,000 common stockholders."

"The gross sales of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and its domestic subsidiaries in their domestic oil business during the two and one-half years ended last June 20, 1922, common dividends aggregated $42,274,812.50, or an average of 2.82 per cent per annum on assets over this period, were

MYSTERIOUS VISIT TO HUGHES BY MORGANSuggested That Secretary and Banker May Have Discussed the German Problem.By a Staff Correspondent of the New York World and Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—An unheralded and almost secret visit was made by J. Pierpont Morgan to the Department of State yesterday. Morgan arrived in the afternoon and immediately proceeded to Secretary Hughes' office. He was closeted there with the Secretary and Under-Secretary Phillips, and returned to New York last night.

In other words competition is again in the single direction to which the unratified agreement does not extend, and if it is allowed to go unchecked, the purse strings again must be relaxed and this Government, like all the others, will be constrained to launch upon a new program to the extent necessary to keep us at least abreast of any of the other powers.

In view of the promises, the duty of the statesmen of the world seems clear. They owe it to their respective peoples to join a new movement to put a stop once and for all to the needless diversion of vast wealth and energy from the fields of peaceful pursuits.

The committee, therefore, is proposing in this bill the appropriate steps to be taken with the view to supplementing the epoch-making work which the conference on the limitation of armament initiated."

DR. SLATEN REITERATES
HIS OPINIONS OF BIBLEWilliam Jewell Teacher, Who Says He Was Discharged,
Quotes From His Book.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14.—A bit furiously and dubiously members of Dr. A. Wakefield Slaten's Bible study class sat with their teacher at his final lecture last night in the Central Baptist Church here. They came in struggling groups, with a half-awake and half-fright written on their faces. Dr. Slaten, his sandy hair upright in a combative little tuft and his gray eyes smiling, walked down the aisle and smiling, the opening of ceremonies by Dr. C. H. Berry, pastor of the church.

Dr. Slaten arose fingering meditatively an edition of his own book.

"What Jesus Taught," because of which he says he has been discharged from William Jewell College. Calmly and philosophically he gave his lecture, never once alluding to the "ridicule which has fallen upon him." But in the heart of his speech was that conviction which has made his "academic crucifixion."

"Intellectual honesty," and the spirit of our age," he said, "and the spirit of the church, forbids us to accept without thinking, any religious teaching, whether ancient and respectable, or modern and questionable."

Freedom to inquire and to investigate is our inherent right and we do well to insist upon it. The God who appeared in the flood," he continued, "was not the God who gave up his life to be humbled, merciful and forgiving."

And again, "the kingdom of God is the ideal social order of earth. Remember also that our views have changed since the Bible was written."

Our Anglo-Saxon ideal of a good man differs from the ideal of Jesus. We believe a man should be trusting, self-assertive, dominating, intelligent. But Jesus believed that he should be a voluntary pauper, humble, merciful. Success, Jesus said, is not judged by gold or learning."

Eighteen trustees of the college met in secret session here today to decide on possible dismissal of Dr. Morgan.

Dr. Slaten was before the board.

He repeated his doubts on the virgin birth of Christ, intercession,

Biblical miracles, the resurrection, and the prophet of whom would permit erection of all the proposed improvements without a bond issue.

One speaker was suppressed with difficulty after insisting on explaining the merits of a plan he had for the river front and end of the Mississippi River.

DAVID LANZAR PERSONALITY
$123,260, INVENTORY SHOWS

Former St. Louis Furniture Dealer Who Died Nov. 20, Owned Stocks of $114,960 Par Value. David Lanzar, a former St. Louis furniture dealer, who died at Bunker Hill, Ill., on Nov. 20, owned stocks in corporations with a par value of $114,960. It is shown in an inventory made by Public Administrator Hamper, who is in charge of the Missouri assets belonging to the estate. Other items, including $4300 cash, make the total personal property amount to $123,260.

Among the stocks are 1000 shares of Bay State Gas Co., par value $100 a share, and 6000 shares of Consolidated Steamship Lines, par value $1 a share. It was stated that the Bay State stock is of doubtful value and that the Consolidated Steamship corporation is not now in business.

Lanzar also owned a 17-room hotel building at Bunker Hill, which for some time before his death he had occupied alone. He used the various rooms as storage places for second-hand furniture which he would sell at auction. He died at this hotel. A brother living in the East is said to be his only heir.

When Lanzar died in this city he was a familiar figure around the courthouse, having become involved in law suits which took years to litigate. The litigation ended several years ago.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

The Weather Was Very Hot in the Summer of 1776; and So Was the Fighting That Began Around New York Then.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."
(Copyright, 1922.)

MEANWHILE Gen. Howe, who had been obliged to leave Boston as soon as the rebels had taken the commanding heights around that famous city, had returned safely to Halifax and was reorganizing his defeated troops. The most important city on the Atlantic Coast was New York, and both Washington and Howe made for it. But Washington got there first. Howe was obliged to stay in Halifax until he could collect supplies and recruits. This gave Washington plenty of time to fortify the city.

If you have ever been in New York you will know that it is shaped like a long thin finger, pointing southwards, with the Hudson River on the west end and the East River on the east. At the south end of the finger is New York Bay. Howe, sailing down from Halifax, would enter this bay, and then try to take the city.

Washington, therefore, put earthworks and heavy guns down around the Battery, as the lower end of New York is called, and more earthworks and guns on Governor's Island, in the mouth of the East River, and still more on the other side of the Hudson River about the place where Jersey City now stands. For fear that Howe pass by in spite of all these guns, and sail up the Hudson and attack New York from the north, Washington built two forts a little ways above the city, that is, above the spot where the city was then. Their ruins are now situated near 183d street. The fort on the Jersey side was called Fort Lee and the fort on the New York side was called Fort Washington. Then Washington sent Gen. Nathaniel Greene and 7000 men over to Brooklyn, to keep the English from slipping in across the East River. The English Governor of New York, Gov. Tryon, and all the citizens who remained loyal to King George were told to move out to Staten Island and there they gave Gen. Howe a warm welcome when he arrived on June 25. By August he had collected 32,000 men, and his brother, Earl Howe, had arrived from England with a strong fleet, which lay in the lower part of the harbor, safely out of range of Washington's guns down at the battery.

All through the early part of the summer 1776, the two armies were busy drilling, getting their supplies in order, and keeping a wary eye on the other fellow, until the twenty-second of August, when things began to happen.

The weather was very hot. So was the fighting which now commenced.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

This New Treatment
Never Fails to End Piles

Many suffers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become dependent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To those people we say, "Go to your doctor and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action instantly the pain and soreness and swelling are relieved. They are applied by direct contact with the diseased and piles are soon healed up and removed forever.

It is simply wonderful how speedily this act of blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadfastly resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.

Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., Judge & Wolf Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co., or all druggists dispense MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES. The original box of 12 will fit you for one month. If you are in the little trouble to obtain even if you have to write to Mecca Medicinal Products Co. of Rochester, N. Y., for a 60 cent box, the cure of Piles forever.

CHEROKEE LINE BILL
UNDER ADVISEMENT

Aldermen's Public Utilities Committee Hears Arguments on Rerouting Proposal.

Arguments for and against the bill to reroute the Cherokee street car line over Twelfth street, from Chouteau avenue to Russell avenue, were made at a public hearing yesterday before the Public Utilities Committee of the Board of Aldermen, and when all sides had been heard, the committee took the bill under advisement.

Rolla Wells, receiver of the United Railways, informed the committee that, under the receivership, he was not empowered to extend the Natural Bridge line from its present terminus, King's highway and Natural Bridge avenue, to Pine, Lawn, and Charles W. Bates, attorney for the receiver, confirmed this statement, explaining that the receiver was authorized only to conserve and operate the property.

Members of the Natural Bridge Improvement Association and business men in the northwest industrial district protested against the bill, rerouting the Cherokee line on the ground that it amounted to an extension of the Cherokee line and argued that extension of the Natural Bridge line should come first. Albert Schmidt, attorney for the association, contended that extension of the Natural Bridge line would cost only about $21,000 more than the proposed rerouting of the Cherokee line.

R. D. Sanger, industrial commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, said that his organization had gone on record for extension of the Natural Bridge line before any other major improvements were made and had assured industries that located in that district that the extension would be made.

A. T. Perkins, manager for the receiver, said the rerouting of the Cherokee line was necessary to eliminate sharp curves in the present line and makes it possible to use trailers, and that if the line is not rerouted it will be necessary to lay new tracks at a cost of about $150,000. The present route of the Cherokee line, after crossing Twelfth street viaduct, is east on Chouteau to Eleventh street, south to Park avenue, east on Park to Ninth street, and south on Ninth to Russell.

Members of the South Twelfth Street Improvement Association favored the rerouting, but an attorney for property owners and merchants of South Broadway argued against it because, he said, the rerouting would inconvenience people of Southwest St. Louis who shop on South Broadway and would injure the business of South Broadway merchants.

Speaking for the City Plan Commission, Charles E. Goltzman said that body favored the rerouting, particularly as a time saver.

SKIPPER BLAMES WRECK ON FOG

Crew Taken From British Tramp
Steamer Oteric
By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—

Capt. V. Harper of the British tramp steamer Oteric, which has been held in shore, an abandoned wreck, near Fish Rock, 70 miles north of here, since Monday night, arrived today with his chief engineer, Peter McGregor, on board the tug Serenger. The wrecking steamer Homer, carrying 10 members of the crew who abandoned the Oteric just before she started to break under the pounding waves yesterday, is expected during the day.

Capt. Harper blamed the wreck on "fog and unknown currents." The Oteric was valued at $750,000.

Four Men Arrested, 20,000 Gallons of Mash, 60 of Whisky Seized by Federal Dry Agents.

A still, which was in operation, 20,000 gallons of mash and 60 gallons of moonshine whisky were confiscated yesterday by Prohibition Enforcement Agents Nations on a farm on the Florissant road, 15 miles northwest of St. Louis in St. Louis County.

Four Italians were arrested. One, Frank Engrof of 715 Wash street, was arrested last spring at a still on Riverview Drive.

The still was in a barn at some distance from a farmhouse on the farm of Anthony Ellerbrach, who was not present at the time of the raid. Nations said he would ask for a warrant for Ellerbrach as well as the men taken at the still.

CHICAGO EXPECTED TO BECOME STEEL CENTER

Illinois Senator Says City Will Be World's Greatest Manufacturing District for Commodity.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—The automation of "Pittsburg plus" by a westward trend which would make Chicago the world's greatest steel manufacturing district was predicted here today by State Senator John Dailey of Peoria in an address before the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association. He also predicted that after the completion of the Illinois waterway "the State will assume its destined pre-eminence among the states, and that along the banks of the waterway the next generation will witness America's greatest manufacturing district, a modern visualization of the scriptural pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night."

"Chicago's annual consumption of coal is 30,000,000 tons, with an annual increase of 1,000,000 tons. One-half of this at least is shipped from mines within traveling distance of the waterway terminals. The saving in freight by water transportation, following the extremely conservative amount of 75 cents per ton, would amount to about $1,100,000 a year. Including the saving on grain and other merchandise, the annual saving would equal or exceed the entire cost of building the waterway.

Demand for Freight Relief.

"To release the 13,040 freight cars and 800 locomotives annually required to haul the 15,000,000 tons now received by Chicago from Southern Illinois would tremendously benefit railroad transportation. There is a pressing demand for freight relief upon shipments of 8000 tons of paper stock a month from Chicago to St. Louis. The railroads should be relieved of those bulky commodities which they cannot afford to carry at a profit."

"The Panama Canal is a challenge. The rail rate from Chicago to California coast cities is from 20 to 100 per cent higher than the rates from the Atlantic seaboard by way of the canal."

A large section of Northwestern Indiana may be opened to direct waterway connection with New Orleans and other Mississippi River points as a result of the Illinois waterway, work on which is to be resumed in the spring.

The project includes dams and locks to make 60 miles of the Illinois and Des Plaines Rivers between Lockport and La Salle navigable. It will furnish the connecting link between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi.

Lock With 17-Foot Lift.
The Illinois River is formed by the junction of the Des Plaines and Fox Rivers with the Kankakee River, just below the junction point, at Dresden Island, a lock with a 17-foot lift, a dam and a powerhouse generating 13,000 horsepower, are to be constructed.

As a result an immense lake will be formed, backing up the Kankakee for several miles. M. G. Barnes, State Waterways Engineer, has informed Gov. Len Small that construction of two dams and small locks in the Kankakee will render that river navigable for barges to the Indiana state line, while Indiana has already completed a dredging project to drain the vast Kankakee marshes, giving the river a channel nine feet deep for 75 miles into Indiana.

It the two Kankakee locks are built by Illinois the barges will then be able to navigate the river to a point south of LaSalle, Ind.

Gov. Small is much interested in the Kankakee project, as his home is at Kankakee, on the river near the Indiana line.

The Indiana reclamation project has developed a new farming district, whose crops might be conveyed direct to New Orleans by water, the Governor says.

Mexican Duties to Be Increased.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Reports from Mexico City to the Department of Commerce indicate that on Dec. 20 an import duty of five centavos per kilo on eggs will go into effect. An increase in the import duty on batteries and a reduction in that on carbonates of potassium also was forecast, but the amounts were not given. An export duty of 1 centavo per kilo on Lima beans was expected to go into effect on the same date.

Getting Too Fat?
Try This—Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, here is a test: follow the diet of the people who know. Ask your druggist for Marconi's Pronto-Cure, a special diet for the fat. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist, or send to the manufacturer, 4912 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

By doing this you will be safe from hunger, and you will be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

FISCO TRAFFIC EXECUTIVE ILL

Alexander Hilton Suffering With Vascular Disease.

Alexander Hilton, second vice president of the Frisco Railroad, in charge of traffic, has been a patient in a Frisco hospital for about a week, suffering with a grave disease of the blood vessels, which has manifested itself especially in his legs. Dr. Robert Vinyard, surgeon in charge of the hospital at present, said no name had been found for this disease. He was of the opinion Hilton would recover.

Hilton has been connected with the Frisco since 1901. He was born in Hamilton, Ontario. He resides at 20 North King's highway.

A report just issued by the Belleville Board of Trade shows that during the 11 months ending Nov. 30, 553 building permits were issued for $557,137 in building. This is taken as showing a revival of the building industry in Belleville.

MISSING WIDOW LEAPED INTO
DRAINAGE CANAL, MAN ASSERTSCompanion and Mrs. Kate Mitchell Trostell of Chicago Had a Violent Quarrel.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Kate Mitchell Trostell, 32-year-old widow who has been mysteriously missing three weeks, was not murdered, but "leaped into the Drainage Canal," Arthur Foster, 32, told the police today.

"Kate and I had a violent quarrel," he said, according to the police. "We were standing on the bank of the Drainage Canal. Suddenly, Kate turned and leaped into the water. That was the last time I saw her alive. She must be dead for she'd be here."

Foster's story did not explain the finding of stains on the running board of his automobile. In the car, also, was a stained robe, a black button and a pencil, both of which had been identified as belonging to the missing woman.

Between the Headlock and the Toe Hold, Wrestlers Ought to Be Able to Make Both Ends Meet

Lewis Relying on Youth, Weight And Headlock to Offset Zbyszko's Strength, in Title Bout Tonight

Powerful Pole, Twelve Pounds Lighter and as Many Years Older Than Champion, Thinks He Has Perfected Block for Grip His Opponent Twice Used to Defeat Him.

By John E. Wray,
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

On its face, the wrestling match at the Coliseum tonight between "Strangler" Lewis and Zbyszko, with the world's catch-as-catch-can title at stake seems as fine an attraction as the game could possibly provide. At least the conditions attending it include many features of unusual interest.

To begin with, the men apparently are the two best in the game today, since all the heavyweights of yesterday appear to have withdrawn from the field to leave this pair struggling alone at the top. Little has been heard of the Stechers, Caddocks and Pesses, this season; and the assumption is that they have been counted out of the first place running.

Azrael, the match will have a keen interest in that it is a struggle between youth and middle-age, with age making its last stand against being shuffled into the discard. Beaten twice within a year by Lewis, for Zbyszko tonight's match represents the supreme attempt to wangle back to the summit.

"Then there is the physical make-up of the men and public attention. Here are two athletes of remarkable mould. Together they weigh over a quarter of a ton; Zbyszko 224, Lewis 216. Seldom in any arena has it been the privilege of the public to see men of the heft and thwifey of this pair meet in a physical struggle. Probably only once in championship history was there more weight involved. That was in Europe when this same Zbyszko wrestled with the gigantic Mark Nouroula, who weighed over 300 pounds, and cast him down.

Role Has Unusual Physique.

Zbyszko is a show in himself. A man of gigantic torso this. With a long "barrel," short neck, wonderfully deep chest, and a broad, well-defined waist, this modern Herculeus has shown us some astonishing exhibitions of sheer strength. Time and again he has displayed it by literally tearing apart with those steel fingers, seemingly fatal grips obtained on him by opponents. When apparently pinned, he heaves thunder-like into action, and, slowly applying his tremendous strength, rends apart all holds. If need be, he uses from the canvas bringing his opponent with him bodily. He takes goes by the back of the head and leaves them over his shoulder for what is known as the "flying mare." With his powerful legs he can clamp "scissors" on his opponent's waist and choke the circulation until the limb is numb and useless.

In short he is one of the most remarkable physical beings known to

FACTS ABOUT TONIGHT'S TITLE MATCH

PRINCIPALS—Robert Fredericks ("Strangler" Ed Lewis), 216, 25 years old, champion; Stanislaus Zbyszko, 224, 31 years old, challenger.

CONDITIONS—Best two out of three falls, each man to count three pins. Tie goes to the count.

REFEREE—George Baptiste, former U. S. middleweight champion of St. Louis, Mo.

BATTLE GROUND—Coliseum, Jefferson and Washington aves.

PURSE—$40,000, of which $5 per cent goes to the winner and $5 to loser. Diamond belt, studded with 115 diamonds, said to be worth $10,000, also goes to the winner.

RULES—No pinning, biting, kicking and gouging are barred. A headlock hold that shifts below the chin and around the throat will be construed as a rule violation.

PREVIOUS MEETINGS—The men have met four times, each owning two victories. Zbyszko won the title in 1921 from Lewis, lost it last March to Lewis and won it back to the summit.

STARTING TIME—First event between Al Wansen and Carl Armbruster, 8:15 o'clock, one fall. Jim Londen and Dan Koloff will then wrestle until 10 p. m. unless one of them throws the other twice before that hour.

The athletic world today—the more remarkable because he is 43 years of age. Despite his 25 years on the mat, his tremendous strength has kept him in the forefront of the wrestling world. He was 42 years old when he won the title, and 43 when he lost it to the man he faces tonight—"Strangler" Lewis.

Lewis Has Advantage of Youth.

Lewis himself is no less spectacular than his foe, although in a different way. Lewis is taller and heavier than "Zibby." In addition he is 12 years his junior. He is almost as powerful as Zbyszko, but he lacks the splendid technique and versatility of his veteran opponent.

Undoubtedly the outstanding attraction about Lewis is his principal method of attack—a feature that will not fail to startle the crowd both because of his lightning speed and his seemingly savage ferocity.

Lewis' Much-Fear Headlock Expected To Play Big Part in Tonight's Struggle

Lewis works on his man until he thinks he is ripe for the principal attack. Suddenly he leaps at his opponent, crooks his left arm about the foe's head clasps his left hand in his right and draws his forearm tight about the enemy's jaw. Then he squeezes with all the bear-like power of his arms. Usually the foe breaks the first hold, and the second; perhaps he shakes loose from the third. Eventually he is so dazed and fatigued that he falls victim to the fourth or fifth.

Whirlwind is the proper term for this method of attack and thus far Lewis has been able to resist it. When Zbyszko defeated Lewis for the title at New York, in 1921, it was under different conditions, the will prevail tonight. Flying and rolling falls were recognized and this style of milling was familiar to Zbyszko, a Graeco-Roman can expert. Lewis, a Welterweight, subsequently beat Zbyszko, but uses the headlock that prevailed over the veteran after Zbyszko had beaten Lewis to the first fall.

Lewis' height and reach and the fact that he has had years practiced on a specially constructed wooden device to strengthen his forearm make him pre-eminent at this specialty. When he gets into action on the ring side is no place for a man to stand. The headlock is rough stuff and the victim knows he has been to the wars.

Means Everything to Zbyszko.

Not least in the consideration is the probable earnestness with which the men will enter the contest. For Zbyszko it not only means a "come back," but possession of the beautifull diamond-studded $10,000 belt. The belt, made of gold and silver, three-fourths of 40 per cent of the date—provided he wins. A guarantee of $900 has been posted with Jack O'Connor, the winner to night at least $4750. If the receipts less $900 the victor makes more money. The loser receives no payment.

Lewis has been made a slight favorite by the public. His two recent victories are his best record. The fact that Zbyszko is previous bout seemed to tire after winning the first fall. Indicates to athletic students that while the veteran's strength is still good his remarkable endurance and great breath. However, Zbyszko is in better shape than for any previous appearance here. He is down much fitter and carries less surplus than in many years. He has trained for the last month and is ready now for the opportunity has arrived. Both men had a light workout yesterday.

S. I. A. W. Will Meet.

By the Associated Press.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Dec. 14.—Possibility of the dissolution of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association as a result of conflicting with the comparatively new Southern Intercollegiate Conference, loomed large yesterday as one of the important matters expected to come up at the annual meeting of the association to be held here today and Saturday.

Talaber Wins Mat Match.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Lou Talaber of Chicago, middleweight wrestler, won from Henry Karhunsaari of Virginia, Minn., here last night in the third round after 5 minutes and 26 seconds. The bout was a return match for Talaber, who had been beaten by Yodel of Salt Lake City, former middleweight champion, won from Billy Peters of Chicago in the second round with a reverse half Nelson and wrist lock after 2 minutes and 35 seconds of wrestling.

He won his title 25 years ago at the Olympic Theater, where he beat Pete Schumacher, the champion, in a 100-lb. bout.

Thumser to Play Center for Piker Basketball Team

Washington U. Five Will Scrimmage Against Scott Field
Quintet Tonight.

Washington University's basketball squad will have its first opportunity to show its strength this season when the Pikers oppose the Scott Field outfit in an informal scrimmage at Francis Gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight. The Aviators have a strong team and should prove at least the equal of the Pikers.

Coach Applegate has better material for a team this year than the Pikers have produced in some time. About 20 men are trying for places on the varsity, and of this number at least 10 are showing well.

The Piker quartet men has not selected his varsity team, but the Pikers will probably start their second string, follows: Capt. Thumser, center; Minner and Heebolt, forwards; and Wagner and Schnaus, guards. This is a very fast combination and Coach Applegate, as a result, intends to make use of the short passing game.

Capt. Thumser Is Shifted.

Thumser played running guard last year, but with a scarcity of centers, the flashy "Baldy" will handle the tip-off. Schnaus, the other letter man from last year, will play backguard, alternating at the post with Buddy Quinwell, a member of last year's squad. Fritz Wagner, who played a great running guard, is a fast floor man and plays a strong game on the defense.

Jack Minner, the Pikers have a natural basketball player. Minner played forward for the freshmen two years ago and was out of school last year. He is good in every department of the game, is very fast and an accurate shot. He and Wagner will make the free throws.

Debolt will work with Minner at the other forward. Debolt was member of the squad last year, but was too inexperienced to be effective. He has developed, however, and should be able to hold his own.

Of the remaining members of the squad, Lyle and Hutton, guards and Greene and Queen, guards, are good utility men. All four are fast, capable players who graduated from Coach Davis' freshman team. Greene, especially, stands out as a defensive guard.

Pirates Land Coast Star.

Moses Yellowhorse, the Indian pitcher, has gone West. That is he no longer a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was traded with Claude Rohwer, an infielder; Harry Brown, an outfielder, and Bill Hughes, a young pitcher, by the Pirates for Edward D. Kunz, a right-handed pitcher of the Sacramento team of the Pacific Coast League.

Fixing stipulated sum as umpire salary in world series instead of giving arbiters percentage of receipts.

Alteration of barnstorming rule. Increasing player limits and fixing date for interclub trades.

Will Be Hard on Umpire.

The American League took a stand in favor of abolishing the "phony" home run at its meeting yesterday, and this, with a proposal that soft drinks be sold at ball parks in paper bottles or cups.

The proposition to create a zoning system in the matter of home runs is one of the best Johnson has suggested in a long time. It is understood that many of the National owners are sick of the bunting of pop flies over the short fences in the leagues with the present lively ball and calling them home runs, and the chances are that it will receive favorable consideration.

This standardization of home runs will make more work for the umpires, but as the fences can't be moved back the zoning seems the only one that can be put into operation.

Players Will Look Neat.

American League clubs are going to look neater next season. The owners passed a resolution that there be two home uniforms for each player and that extra stockings and shorts be carried along on the road trips, so that the boys will be clean and sanitary at all times.

The resolution looking to the soft drink encasing of soft drinks is the direct result of the "beanning" of Whitey Witt, the Yankee outfielder.

In a game at St. Louis in the exciting series late in September, if the pop bottle was barred forever, an after step in the right direction will have been taken.

Swimming Meet Tonight.

A swimming meet will be held at the North Side Y. M. C. A. tonight, at which the feature will be an exhibition of the various swimming strokes by Chauncey Heath, former 10-mile champion.

For the board of directors: George Eggemann, Jack Ruddy, Matt Sofka, George Ising and Oscar Juergens were chosen to serve. The newly elected members of the athletic board were Thomas Conroy, William Wenzel and Fred Gilman.

7356 VERDICT FOR ARCHITECT AGAINST MOTHER GOOSE FIRM

William H. Gruen Had Sued For Services in Altering Shop at Seventh and Olive.

A verdict for $7356 was returned by a jury today in Circuit Judge Kiene's court in favor of William H. Gruen, architect, and against the Missouri Sweets Distributors Inc., proprietors of the Mother Goose Shop, which Gruen had sued for services rendered in altering the Mother Goose Shop at Seventh and Olive streets.

The claim of Gruen was based on a series of notes given him by the defendant Feb. 6, 1921, after a part settlement had been made by the company for his services. He claimed he was to receive a commission of 20 per cent of the estimated cost of the alterations which cost $150,000 and after receiving $18,500 from the concern he compromised on the remainder due him and was given notes amounting to $7356 54 which bore interest of six per cent. Gruen was also allowed six per cent interest on the notes in the judgment.

The defense made by the company was that Gruen's charge was excessive and because of changes from the original plans the company was put to extra expense. The company claimed Gruen's alleged oversight in putting an elevator on the Seventh street side of the shop, in violation of a city ordinance, resulted in a damage suit of $10,000 for alleged damages by a customer. It was claimed Gruen had received all attention to this.

After the verdict was returned Gruen obtained an execution on the judgment.

Armed Band Travels by Train to

All Combatants Young.

(Copyright, 1923.)

STUTTGART, Germany, Dec. 14.
An armed company of about 100 Bavarian National Socialists traveled by train from Munich yesterday to protect a mass meeting called by the Wurtemberg branch of their organization in the nearby town of Goettingen.

The news reached the organized Communist and Socialist workers of Wurtemberg and they undertook to break up the arrangements. A fight raged in the streets for two hours between the National Socialists, armed with pistols and black-jacks and the Communists, including who fought with paving stones and clubs. A dozen persons were seriously injured. None of the combatants seemed to be more than 20 years old.

The Communists say "The National Socialists and their secret murder clubs are digging Germany's grave."

The Nationalist retort is "Jews and Marxists are the only ones digging the grave of the Fatherland."

Every public improvement made anywhere in

Self-Mastery Through Autosuggestion

How to Experiment in Autosuggestion

"Day by Day in Every Way I am Getting Better and Better"

BY DR. EMILE COUE.

ARTICLE IV.

THE principle of the method of teaching autosuggestion to patients, may be summed up in these few words:

It is impossible to think of two things at once, that is to say, that two ideas may be in juxtaposition, but they cannot be superimposed in our mind.

Every thought entirely filling our mind becomes true for us and tends to transform itself into action.

Thus if you can make a sick person think that her trouble is disappearing, it will disappear; if you can make a kleptomaniac think that he will not steal any more, he will cease to steal.

This training, which perhaps seems to you an impossibility, is, nevertheless, the simplest thing in the world.

It is enough, by a series of appropriate and graduated experiments, to teach the subject, as it were, the ABC of conscious thought.

Here is the series: By following it to the letter one can be absolutely sure of obtaining a good result, except with the two categories of persons mentioned before. Those who have mental incapacity cannot understand it, and those who will not.

The experiments following are those of Sage of Rochester.

First Experiment

Preparatory—Ask the subject to stand upright, with the body as stiff as an iron bar, the feet close together, the arms hanging, while keeping the ankles flexible as if they were hinges. Tell him to make himself like a plank with hinges at its base, which is balanced on the ground. Make him notice that if one pushes the plank slightly either way it falls as a mass without any resistance, in the direction in which it is pushed.

Tell him that you are going to pull him back by the shoulders and that he must let himself fall in his arms, without the slightest resistance, turning on his ankles as on hinges, that is to say, keeping the feet fixed to the ground.

Then pull him back by the shoulders and if the experiment does not succeed, repeat it until it does, or nearly so.

Second Experiment

Begin by explaining to the subject that, in order to demonstrate

Thoughts and Precepts of Dr. Emile Coue

As Jotted Down During His Talks to Patients by His Disciple, Mme. Emile Leon

To become master of oneself it is enough to think that one is becoming so... Your hands tremble, your steps falter... tell yourself that all that is going to cease, and little by little it will disappear.

It is not in me, but in yourself, that you must have confidence, for it is in yourself alone that dwells the force which can cure you. My part simply consists in teaching you to make use of that force.

When you make conscious auto-suggestions, do it naturally, simply, with conviction, and above all without any effort. If unconscious and bad autosuggestions are so often realized, it is because they are made without effort.

The action of the imagination upon us, you are going to ask him in a moment to think: "I am falling backwards, I am falling backwards, etc., etc., etc., etc., and, indeed, You are falling backwards. You are falling backwards, etc., etc., etc., etc."

At the same time slide the left hand lightly backwards to the left temple, above the ear, and move, very slowly, but with a continuous movement, the right fist.

The subject is immediately felt to make a slight movement backwards, and either to stop himself from falling or else to fall completely.

In the first case, tell him that he has resisted, and that he did not think merely that he was falling, but that he might hurt himself if he did fall. That is true, for if he had not thought the latter, he would have fallen like a block.

Repeat the experiment, using a tone of command as if you would force the subject to obey you. Go on with it until it is completely successful or very nearly so. The operator should stand a little behind the subject, the left leg forward and the right leg well behind him, so as not to be knocked over by the subject when he falls. Neglect of this precaution might result in a double fall if the person is heavy.

Third Experiment

Place the subject facing you, the body still stiff, the ankles flexible, and the feet joined and parallel. Put your two hands on his temples without any pressure, look fixedly, without moving the eyelids, at the root of his nose, and tell him to think: "I am falling forward, I am falling forward," and repeat to him stressing the syllables. "You are fall * * * ward. You are fall * * * ing for * * * ward. You are fall * * * ing for * * * ward," without ceasing to look fixedly at him.

Fourth Experiment

Ask the subject to clasp his hands as tight as possible, that is to say, until the fingers tremble slightly, look at him in such a way as in the preceding experiment and keep your hands on his as though to squeeze them together still more tightly.

Tell him to think that he cannot unclasp his fingers that you are going to count three, and that when you say "One" he is to try to separate his hands while thinking all the time "I cannot do it. I cannot do it" * * * and he will find it impossible.

Then count very slowly, "One, two, three," and add immediately, detaching the syllables: "You can * * * not * * * do it * * * You can * * * not do * * * it."

If the subject is thinking properly, "I cannot do it" not only is he unable to separate his fingers, but the latter clasp themselves all the more tightly together the more effort he makes to separate them.

He obtains, in fact, exactly the contrary to what he wants.

In a few moments say to him: "Now think: 'I can do it,' and his fingers will separate themselves."

Be careful always to keep your eyes fixed on the root of the subject's nose, and do not allow him to turn his eyes away from yours for a single moment.

If he is able to unclasp his hands, do not think it is your own fault; it is the subject's. He has not properly thought: "I cannot."

Assure him firmly of this, and begin the experiment again.

Always use a tone of command which suffers no disobedience.

Do not mean that it is necessary to raise your voice; on the contrary, it is preferable to employ the ordinary pitch, but stress every word in a dry and imperative tone. (Copyright, 1922.)

The flat-headed apple-tree borer is a serious orchard pest, and the borer into the bark and wood of a great variety of trees, but is best known as an enemy of the apple, pear, peach and other cultivated fruit trees. Its depredations are felt in almost every locality where orchards have been planted.

Fashion News Notes

PARIS.—A clever idea seen here today is that of the black crepe gown with a few flowers painted upon it by hand. There are usually not more than three or four of these flowers, effectively placed, to each gown. But the flowers are as large as a head of lettuce, and extremely brilliant.

PARIS.—The newest notion today is to have the earrings match a cabochon set in the exact center of the front of the hat. If, as often happens, the hat is built along Egyptian lines with flaring satin linings over the ears, the effect of cabochon and big ear ornaments is very Egyptian indeed.

LONDON.—Feather flowers today ornament hats, evening gowns and the girdles of African frocks. They look in quaintness and charm with flowers of leather, skillfully cut out and tinted in natural shades, or done into deft openwork and gilded or silvered.

LONDON.—Sleeveless jackets of fur are used on warm days this winter with woolly street costumes. The jacket buttons around the neck, and crosses over to fasten on the hip, where it ends abruptly. The arm holes are cut very wide. A caracol jacket of this sort is stunning with a beige velour gown.

PARIS.—The most glorious of evening capes shown here today has a black satin ground the better to show off the stripes of gold and silver of which the cape is chiefly made.

NEW YORK.—Some of the restaurant hats are trimmed with nothing but gold and silver wire and strings of pearls. A hat of black chiffon, fragile and transparent, seen today, was effectively edged with large pearls, the same decoration being used in two intersecting rows across the crown.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB.

THE BLAME GOES WITH THE NAME.

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON, the author, walked into a Boston bookstore, the home of culture, mind you, and, idling about, found a copy of his own book, "Graustark." Slipping a fountain pen from his pocket he surreptitiously scribbled his name on the fly-leaf. McCutcheon writes an almost illegible hand.

He fiddled about a bit, then picked up the book, and, carrying it in his hand, approached the proprietor.

"What kind of a yarn is this?" he asked.

"Pretty fair."

"How much is it?"

"Dollar and a half."

McCutcheon opened the volume at the page bearing his scrawled signature. "How about this?" he asked. "What do you want for it with this in it?"

"Oh," said the book dealer, "that's a mutilated copy. Take it for 75 cents."

THE REWARD OF POLITICS.

WHEN the late Ollie James, United States Senator from Kentucky, first broke into politics in his native county of Crittenden he had occasion to try a case before a rural Magistrate. After the trial ended the Magistrate invited the young lawyer to go home to dinner with him. As they sat down at the table the old man said:

"Ollie, it pains me mighty to see you messin' in with politics."

"Why so?" inquired James.

"Ollie, my son," said the Magistrate, "politics ain't no fittin' pursuit for any young man. Look at me! I started in politics when I was young and hopeful. Just like you are now. I have held mighty near all the positions of trust in the gift of the people of my home district. I have been School Trustee, Road Supervisor, Constable and Justice of the Peace. But now, as an old man, about all I've got to show for my years of ceaseless activity is a lot of warm enemies and cold friends."

Dean's Bond Is

Coroner.

Developments today in George Dean, licensed chauffeur who killed his second pedestrian in a night delivery truck plan group of persons at Taylor and Broadway at 5 p.m. and then feloniously fled the scene, were these:

A man who was on with Dean at the time each had had six drinks "before the tragedy."

A Coroner's jury held a homicide, and his bond at $20,000, the largest ever imposed by the Coroner. His son on the truck at the accident was held as a witness.

Secretary of State

announced he would ask the Legislature to enact a law that a chauffeur's license be revoked if the holder is convicted of crime, and to present laws so that an order of administration of an officer be required when persons a chauffeur's license.

Discusses that the pro-vehicle law does not have sufficient restrictions for the use of automobiles.

He makes application a fee of $2, regardless of who makes application.

That in 1918, when under parole from a sentence for manslaughter with the killing of a pedestrian, he was fined $500, speeding, but that no action was taken toward revoking his license.

At the Coroner's inquest in the case of Floyd R. Caven, 20 years old, of 8035A North, who was instantly killed when Dean, driving at high speed, ran into a group of persons, transferring a street car to another, was ever like a tempo, the most important witness here. He was of 2312 Hebrew street, with Dean, newsboy, Edward Kennedy, 2304A North Eleventh, eye witness, who furnished information which resulted in arrest, after the latter had duly fled from the scene.

Metz was arrested when policemen, after a conversation between a man who visited him at the police station, he was taken to the police station, the first time that Dean had been on the truck at the accident.

"When I saw those people on the street, I thought I'd better go to the right and pass them," said Metz, who was held at a police station as witness for the Coroner, going south in the south tracks, and the people we saw when we were 50 from the intersection of the streets. I don't know if I turned out to be the accident.

"We were not going 20 miles an hour and I am sure that had he pulled west side of Broadway there have been no accident.
